

No Longer Feeling Themselves an essential connectedness

- Dalma Heyn

No longer feeling themselves in relationship but playing a role in one to keep one another.
No longer feeling equal, powerful, free from having to feel on demand to please another who won't make the effort to romance or seduce as if forever after, one and only one, weren't a nursery rhyme or lullaby.
Wanting for a change to be treated like a grown-up.
