

If in the Presence

If in the presence of a naked woman we do not feel arising in our deepest being the same awesome sensation we feel before the revelation of the cosmic mystery, there is no rite, only a profane act that does not loosen but strengthens the chain binding us to our conditional existence: an act, said Maestrul, can become a sacrament.