

Judge the wisdom of my poems said Callimachos setting the style for the next several centuries refusing to acknowledge knowledge as the supreme goal taking care though having great sympathy for learned studies not to let library dust dim the brilliance of his art by their craftsmanship.