

For Weeks I've Carried It

For weeks I've carried it almost certainly dead wondering how to bear it or if it will resorb.

Why when you found me beneath that alarm of wings did you bend and take me between your cupped hands knowing your touch would leave me disowned yet unable to fly?

Why did you dream me if you didn't mean to make it real?