

The Cold War

The Cold War — according to post-Depression humanists and Cold Warriors both — prefigured by Ahab and Ishmael:
totalitarian-dash-democratic passions playing out and the goodguy still alive after the cosmos-rending cataclysm:
revolutionary action figures,
puritan strictures versus liberal freedoms, down home blue denim versus imperial forces.